Dear James

Dear James,

You really have to stop this. Why can't you just accept the fact that I'm never gonna be with you? I mean... look at you... look at how you treat all the girls around you! You really want me to believe, you would treat me in a different way? And even if you would, how long would it take before you'd just get tired of me and break my heart, like you broke every other girl's heart too? It's gonna be a year, a month, or maybe just a week before you realize I'm just a silly mistake and everything you thought about me was wrong: that in the end I'm not the right one... that your dream-girl is still somewhere out there waiting for you to find her and live happily ever after, start a family and grow old together. And what about me? I'm just gonna end up like hundreds of other girls! I don't want this to happen; I do not wanna end up this way! So please accept this fact and try to move on, try to find your dream-girl somewhere else, because I'm sure, it's not me! So stop wasting your time or someday we'll both get hurt. I mean...just look around you; you're more wanted then the new season Gucci's! If I would even take the chance to think about actually being with you I would be dead within a day... okay, I admit, this is just an excuse to make you understand the fact that you have to live your life without me, but that's 'cause I don't want to live mine with you. I know this seams really, really mean, but it's the way it is, so please try to deal with it! There are so many nice girls around you that just can't wait to be noticed by you, and if you asked every single one of them, they would all tell the same story: that once you will get to know them better you will realize they're your big love and everything else was a mistake. But in real they know exactly that you'll dump them like every other girl before, and that's also the reason why they never give up, because they know you'll dump every girlfriend you'll have and it's only a matter of time before you'll be looking for another one! But I'm not one of these silly, stupid girls. I'll never be one of them! I'm not stupid James. You can tell me whatever invented story you want; I could never change my mind about you. Your personality is so clear, I see exactly who you are and how you act, so don't even try to deny it, it's just too obvious! So... in case you didn't get it yet: Just stay away from me, please! And I even tried to be nice and explain why it would never work between us two, even if I wanted to, so have a nice life.

Lily

I really hope you liked this start and there weren't too many mistakes in it..and please, please write a review, even a short one, but tell me what u think of this story! It can also be in german ;)

Dear Lily

@ Mary Black: thanks!! I really appreciate it :D Well, that's what I planned, but since this whole FF is very offhanded I actually don't know for sure yet ;) I hope you'll like this new chapter! Xoxo @ LittleMissCullen: Well, I'm happy you like it :D Thanks for the advice ;) you'll see... in this chapter there will be paragraphs :) I hope you'll like it! Xoxo

Dear Lily,

I have to be honest with you: I really don't get it! What on earth have I done to be hated this much? Do I really deserve it? Your letter made me very sad. How can you be so sure, your feelings for me will never change?

To me it seems like you're trying to fight every positive feeling you could possibly have for me. I mean, okay, I'm not the nicest guy in the world when it comes to ex-girlfriends, but that's really no reason for hating me, and by the way I just act this way because I hope I'll find someone that could help me to forget you, but every time I get disappointed.

So, hell, yes: I would treat you differently! You wanna know why? Because you're my Lily, the dream-girl you're talking about in your letter! Because once you find this girl you can't just change the way you feel and decide you want another one... Once you find her, you realize you would do everything for this girl. You would make a fool of yourself just to see her smile; you couldn't bear the thought of her being mad at you! You would even sacrifice your life for her! That's how it feels like, and that's exactly what I feel, when I think about you and no one other! But obviously you don't get that... otherwise you wouldn't ask me to move on!

And regarding the 'we'll both get hurt' ... well, in my opinion we'll get hurt even more, if we continue avoiding each other. Because someday I'll just give up and I'm really gonna start to look for another girl and eventually I'll even find one that could make me forget you, at least for a little. And by then you will realize how much you really care, but it's gonna be too late to change.

You're an intelligent girl, Lily! Try to use your head and try to think about this clearly! I really don't know how you got to the point that I would just use you and then break your heart, but I swear it's nonsense! I could never ever hurt you, and if I unintentionally did I could never forgive myself for doing it!

I get it; maybe I was a little annoying, asking you out nearly every day since third grade, but still, you have to admit that if I wasn't really interested in you I would have stopped shortly after I started. But I didn't, and this clearly shows you're more than all the other annoying girls around me! Lily, you're so much better than all of them together... you're so beautiful, so smart, you could never hurt someone and you love everyone around you... I just can't understand why you put all your hatred on me. How can't you understand that we're meant to be together?

Don't deny it, because deep inside your heart you know that I'm right, and that you don't really hate me.
James

I really hope you guys liked this chapter ;) please write a little review, cause I'd really like to know what you think of this letters!!

Dear James

Yees...I'm still here ;) I'm soooo sorry it took soo long :/

@ Nalie: I'm glad you liked it till now and I hope, you'll like Lily answer too :) xoxo

@LittleMissCullen: Don't worry ;) if you hadn't told me I wouldn't have even noticed your mistake well..maybe it's the perfect answer, but it's not gonna be this easy for James to change Lily's mind :D enjoy Lily's letter! Xoxo @BlackVanilla: Thanks! It's really great to hear that you can understand the character's feelings and kind of 'feel with them' :) and it's also nice to know there're not so many mistakes in it ;)

Anyways..you're pretty good in English for 7th grade :) congrats!

I still don't know how many chapters the story will have..when I'll decide I'll let you know ;) xoxo @Mary Black: Thank you :D I love him too!! He's soo cute <3 I hope you'll like Lily's (not so cute) answer ;) xoxo @Mik: Merci beaucoup :D thanks for the compliments ;)

Maybe it's because sometimes I feel just the way James has to feel..like he's talking to a wall, and some other times I feel exactly like Lily..like deep inside I know the person I'm talking to is right, but I'm just to proud to admit it even to myself and so I simply go on and on with the same arguments juts wanting to be right :) I know it's a little stupid..but this is how Lily is ;)

No, I'm not..actually I'm half German, half Italian ;) xoxo

Dear James,

Is it that difficult to understand? Why? Do you want me to write in another language? Do you speak Chinese? &#26356;&#22909;&#30340;?

Well, I'm just gonna explain it to you in English one last time, even though it shouldn't be hard for to understand: James Potter, you are a really mean person. And it's not only you; your stupid friends are the same! So just to be clear here's what you've done: You treat all girls like dirt. Like they're not good enough for you. Like they don't even deserve to exist when you're around 'cause they could accidentally take away your air to breathe. And the ones that are good enough to be your potential girlfriends are not threatened better: once they get boring or too attached you get rid of them like you could get rid of old shoes. You just get new ones and don't look at the old ones anymore.

That's not how you should treat human beings! But you have no idea...you don't see whining girls sitting in corners of the restrooms... But how could you? For you they don't even exist anymore once you dumped them. But you don't treat just girls like that. What about all the other kid's that get mocked by you just because you don't know what else to do?

You're a Gryffindor? I'm really sorry but you don't look like one to me. By the way you treat people your character reminds me more of a Slytherin than a courageous, fair Gryffindor!

You really want me like you?? I'm really sorry but I can't do it if you only give me reasons not to.

I admit I don't hate many persons, but with you I really don't see why I should like you.

And stop this stupid 'we belong together' talk! It won't help you. It's just bullshit...and by the way I really don't need your explanation of terms 'soul mates' or 'dream girl' because I know exactly what they mean and I'm also pretty sure that when you say them they don't exactly apply to me!

And also stop telling me to think! I do that all the time, comparing to you. And the only thing I'm 100 percent sure of is that all what you say is totally stupid, senseless and that I do not think that we belong together, not even deep inside me! So just do me this favor and stop all this annoying 'mind-reading-stuff' cause it might work with all the other freaky girls out there but I can assure you, that it will not work with me! And believe me; I really don't care if my letter made you sad! I wouldn't even care if I got a letter soaked in tears from you! At least I tell you the facts! I don't just write some random stuff and hope you like it! So if you really want to answer this letter, don't bother if it's not nice, I won't either!

I reeeaally hope you enjoyed this chapter and you'll leave a short review just so I can have a feedback ;)

Hi Lily

SOOOORRY it took so long again!! But it wont happen again!!!

@LittleMissCullen: Possible ;) But I think it's hard to predict Lily's reaction though...and I'm sorry it took so long for this chapter, but I hope you'll still like it and write a review :D xoxo @haha ;) yepp..she is!! Well..you'll see soon enough :D Enjoy this chanper! xoxo

Lily!

Do you have the slightest idea how much you're hurtin James right now? Cause I really don't think you do.

So I'm just gonna try to explain it to you briefly: Have you seen him anywhere around school in this days? Have you seen him in class, the common room or anywhere else? No? Well, I haven't either, and I can assure you it's not because he's sick or somethin... Lily Evans, James is avoiding every human being right now and it's only your fault. If you hadn't been so mean to him he wouldn't be hidin in his room 24 hours a day just to be sure he didn't have to see you!

Lily, I get it, you don't like him...but why can't you just give him a chance to show you that he can be different from the way you describe him. Why can't you accept the fact that people can change? James changed, a lot! I admit, last year he was exactly how you described him now, but he's not like that anymore! And believe me, I know that! He's my best friend, I know him better than anyone else, and I know what I'm talkin about. He's been talki about you since third grade! He knows you better than you know yourself! Do you think he acts like this with his other girlfriends? Do you think he knows the size of their feet of even the color of their eyes? He even knows how many freckles you have and the exact length of your hair. I just think it's pathetic, but Remus says this is love.

Well, even if it's love, this doesn't look healthy to me! He's not himself anymore. He just stays in his room the whole day looking at your picture and tellin me stuff about you that I don't really care about. (Please don't be mad about the picture thing... it's just one of you and Remus he found in Remus' stuff, he's not really stalking you or something! And I'm also sorry I don't care about the thinks he's tellin me 'bout you, but I'm not into you..so I don't really care!)

Anyways I just sent you this letter to ask you to please, please give him a chance, or at least think about it! I swear he would never hurt you; he cares too much to do that!

Like James already said, you are a very smart girl, who knows what the right thing to do is. So please consider this as another option! No one's forcing you, but it's really hurtin even me to see James so brokenhearted.

Sirius

Hi Lily,

This is Remus.

I'm just doing this because Sirius is forcing me and because seeing James this way is not nice at all! I don't know what I should be telling you, because I really don't want to force you to do something you don't want to. So I'm just gonna tell you some facts! I won't take your side and neither James's, since you're both my friends.

To James' defense he really likes you! He's not just faking it, or he would have given up many years ago.

To yours he may have been a really bad guy, and all the things you think about him may have been true, but they're not like this anymore!

You should be really happy he changed, because he just did this for you! Now he's a good guy, with a broken heart and you're the only one who can make him feel better! You don't even have to tell him how much you love him! A simple 'I'm sorry-Letter' is enough for now! I'm not even asking you to go out with him (well, not yet), but at least you could try to get to know the real James and see how much he differs from the picture of him you had until now.

I hope I helped you with this letter!

Remus

This chapter was a little change ;) I hope you liked it so please tell me what you think about it!! xoxo

What The Hell's Going On Here? (Part 1)

Hello ;) this chapter's different from all the ones I wrote before...in this one you'll be able to see (or better read) exactly what's going on in Lily's head while she reads :) ENJOY!

@BlackVanilla: Don't worry it's okay ;) Thank youuu :D Enjoy this chapter ;) xoxo @Mik: hahahah :) thankss!! Of course I know pride and prejudice!! I LOVE that book :D yeah..I know..they're exactly like that :p but I guess, that's what most people like about this couple ;) Have fun reading! Xoxo

@Mary Black: Yeah, he totally is!!! Well, read the next chapter to see Lily's reaction to (for now) one of the letters ;) xoxo @Raum der Wünsche: Thank youuuu :D Hope you'll like this new chapter too :) xoxo @LittleMissCullen: Sorry it took so long, but don't worry I won't stop writing for a veery long time ;) Yeah...we'll see soon enough what Peter thinks about this whole situation too..just be patient :) xoxo

I woke up, feeling observed.

Looking around the room I immediately knew why. A gigantic dark brown owl was staring at me from outside the window with big yellow eyes. I knew that owl; I just didn't know where from, then it hit me: That's Potters owl! What does he want in the middle of the night?!

Okay, Lily...calm down! It's probably just one of his stupid letters...it can wait 'till tomorrow morning...

Still a little confused I released the owl from the heavy letter that was tied on her leg and opened the window again to let her find her way back to her owner. I lay down on my bed again, sighing as I realized I wasn't tired anymore. A glance on my alarm clock made me sigh again: 2 AM! Couldn't he send his owl at a more decent time? The thought of taking some of Hannah's Sleeping Potion was really tempting, however I knew exactly, if I took even one sip of it I'd be sleeping till noon. Lily, you're not gonna read this letter now! No one's expecting you to. But everyone's expecting you to sleep at 2 AM. But now that you're up you could use this time wisely and do your astronomy homework!

Unfortunately the homework was neither difficult nor long so around 2.40 AM I gave up. The temptation was just too huge; I simply had to read the letter! Lily, are you insane? This is Potters's letter you're talking about! James Potter wrote this! He wrote this because he's a jerk and wants to go out with you, just like he goes out with any other girl at Hogwarts!

Ignoring my own thoughts I took the letter from my nightstand, put on my bathrobe and got out of the room.

Sitting there near the fireplace I actually looked at the letter properly. There was written 'For Lily' with spidery handwriting on the envelope. That's weird! Normally there's nothing at all on the envelope! And the handwriting is different from the usual too! Not making too big of a deal out of it I just opened it and took out two sheets.

"Lily!

Do you have the slightest idea how much you're hurtin James right now? Cause I really don't think you do." – Wait a moment...what just happened? Why's Potter talking in third person about himself?

"So I'm just gonna try to explain it to you briefly: Have you seen him anywhere around school in this days? Have you seen him in class, the common room or anywhere else? No? Well, I haven't either, and I can assure you it's not because he's sick or somethin...

Lily Evans, James is avoiding every human being right now and it's only your fault. If you hadn't been so mean to him he wouldn't be hidin in his room 24 hours a day just to be sure he didn't have to see you!" – This is definitely not from Potter! So why is he blaming me for hurting Potter? Who cares if he wants to give up his social life! It wouldn't hurt him to stay away from stupid little girls adoring him for a while!

"Lily, I get it, you don't like him" – Yeah, you got that one right!

"...but why can't you just give him a chance to show you that he can be different from the way you describe him?" – Who's this crazy guy anyways? He really shouldn't get his nose in my affairs!

"Why can't you accept the fact that people can change? James changed, a lot!" – Okay, some people do change, but Potter's not one of these people!

"I admit, last year he was exactly how you described him now, but he's not like that anymore! And believe me, I know that!" – Not only last year, he's always been like that and he still is! So this guy should really stop defending him.

"He's my best friend, I know him better than anyone else, and I know what I'm talkin about." – Great. So now he sent his friends to defend himself? Is it too hard for poor little Jamesie to defend himself?

"He's been talkin about you since third grade! He knows you better than you know yourself!" – *Yeah sure, and I'm supposed to believe this bulls**t? I bet James just mane his friend write this to make me change my mind...that's pathetic!*

"Do you think he acts like this with his other girlfriends?" – How am I supposed to know how he acts with the other ones? I'm not a crazy, jealous chick how spies on James's relationships.

"Do you think he knows the size of their feet or even the color of their eyes? He even knows how many freckles you have and the exact length of your hair. I just think it's pathetic, but Remus says this is love!" – Well, if this is called love then I swear I don't wanna be in love with any guy in the world. This is insane! Why does Potter even care about how many of these horrible freckles I have in my face? Not even I know and it's not like he really cares about me either...

"Well, even if it's love, this doesn't look healthy to me! He's not himself anymore. He just stays in his room the whole day looking at your picture and tellin me stuff about you that I don't really care about." – Poor Ja... – No, Lily, STOP it! This is Potter he's talking about! Arrogant Mr. Know-It-All and you HATE him, all right? You don't care if he's getting depressed, nope, you're even happy if he is!

"(Please don't be mad about the picture thing... it's just one of you and Remus he found in Remus' stuff, he's not really stalking you or something! And I'm also sorry I don't care about the thinks he's tellin me 'bout you, but I'm not into you..so I don't really care!)" – I don't care either.

"Anyways I just sent you this letter to ask you to please, please give him a chance, or at least think about it! I swear he would never hurt you; he cares too much to do that!" – Nope, that's never gonna happen...and I won't believe this, unless I get some proof!

"Like James already said, you are a very smart girl, who knows what the right thing to do is. So please consider this as another option! No one's forcing you, but it's really hurtin even me to see James so brokenhearted." – Well, since this was never a real option for me I don't even have to think about it and taadaa: Problem's solved!

"Sirius" – Like I didn't already get it, who else would even try to protect James? ...Waaait a second... did I just say James, instead of Potter? I really need some sleep; I'm starting to freak out...

How was it? Please be honest! I can also just continue with the letters if that's better! Tell me what you think :) xoxo

Potions

Hi everyone :)

I'm sososososooooo sorry it took so long! It surely won't happen again. Have fun reading!

@Mik: I hope you will like this chapter too, it's a little short and maybe even boring, but the next will be better! xoxo „Lily! Wake up, or you're gonna be late for Potions! Lily Evans, if you don't get out of this bed in this exact moment I swear I'll make sure your hair gets blue! And believe me, I'm not kidding.”

A shrill voice startled me out of my sleep. Damn, my dream had been so nice! I tried to open my eyes but the light was way too bright. „Mhh... just a second! What time is it?” „Its already 8.30 a.m., you missed the Breakfast! And you're gonna miss Potions too, if you don't get out of your bed right now!”

Hannah's face appeared next to my pillow. She seemed really serious, but I still didn't trust her completely. How many times had she already woke me up around 5 a.m. telling me it was nearly 9 just to laugh at me for the whole day? I leaned over to look at the big clock hanging over the door. „Damn! Is anyone in the Bathroom?” I can't remember ever getting out of bed as fast as right now. In no time I was already under the shower and back thinking about yesterday's letter...

Lily, I know you don't want to think about that jerk right now, but you could at least finish reading the letter, since it's not even from him. I thought to myself as I was washing out the shampoo from my hair. You wouldn't like it either if someone doesn't read and reply your letters, no matter if he likes you or not, it's just a matter of politeness!

By the time my hair was dry and I had mascara on my lashes the decision was made: I was gonna finish reading the letter later at History (it's so boring there, I need some distraction if I don't want to fall asleep like someone we all know) and then I would decide if writing anything back or just act like I never got it.

„Lily, come on! You still have to get dressed and pack your bag!”

Skirt, white shirt... „Where the hell is my Gryffindor Tie?” ...Shoes. Potions Book, History Book...I'll get the rest later in the break!

“Can we please go, I don't wanna be late! Professor Slughorn already hates me enough!” Hannah was complaining. “Just a second!” I laughed running over to my nightstand to get the letter, hoping Hannah didn't see it. “What's that?” “Just a stupid letter”, I said stuffing it into my bag and getting out of the room before she could ask any more questions.

We got into the classroom just one second before the bell rang, but everyone was already sitting at their places so that we had to split up. Hannah got a place next to some Ravenclaw girl so that I had to sit next to Remus.

Automatically I did exactly like I was told and started reading the Ingredients list. Done with that I turned around to see what Remus was doing. “Already finished reading?” I looked at his book, not finding it. Instead he was staring at...my letter? “Why are you reading my letter? I mean your letter... I mean the letter you sent me... My letter!” a little confused I whipped it out of his hands and tossed it back into my bag. “I didn't take it! It was on the desk!” he tried to explain. I just sighted and handed him over my book. “Read! I'm gonna go get the ingredients.”

Why can no one here just mind his own business? I wouldn't read his letter either if I saw it on the desk! ...or maybe I would... but I can! I'm a girl, I can be curious! “Watch out! I'm sure you wouldn't be thrilled to crush into me!”, a laughing voice scared me out of my thoughts. I looked up just to see Blacks ugly face grinning at me. “Well, for once you're right!”, I hissed. He just started laughing and got back to his seat.

“So, why exactly did you bring the letter to class and put it on the desk if you don't want anyone to read it?” Remus' voice was right next to my ear. “Hush, I'm trying to concentrate here! Don't you want to get a good mark?” I looked at him angrily. “For Merlin's sake, I'm just asking. No need to act this way”, he murmured and turned away. Immediately I felt bad for my behavior...“hey, sorry for overreacting... Guess I’m just a little tired”, I smiled at him, “didn’t really get much sleep after your owl woke me up last night.” I smiled at him apologizing. “Oh, damn! You’re right, sorry about that.” We both started laughing.

“I’m very glad, my class is such a pleasure for both of you. Mr Lupin, Miss Evans, how about you join me tonight for some extra work? Since you don’t seem to be capable of that right now...” Shit!

“Professor Slughorn! We’re very sorry, Sir. I swear it won’t happen again, but please don’t make us stay for detention...” Remus was just starting his plea, but Professor Slughorn cut him off immediately. “Mr Lupin, I’m sure you do feel sorry for this improper behavior, but I’m a man of action and I shall not tolerate such manners in my classroom.” This said, he turned around and strutted into his office. Remus looked at me begging: “Lily...please go talk to him. He totally adores you! Just tell him we have some prefect-business to do and he’ll let us go. Pleaseee!” I sighed and followed my potions Professor into the office. Okay Lily, you can do this! He’s not gonna bite. “Sir? I’m sorry to bother you, but I was wondering...” he turned around. “Do we have to do the detention today...since, you know, we have some prefect-business to do and...” I looked down shyly. “Oh, but of course Miss Evans, that will be no problem, we’re just gonna postpone the detention. I assume you, and Mr Lupin have no other commitment this Saturday? And now that this is cleared, please get back to work. I wouldn’t want to give you a bad mark for not finishing today’s assignment.” I looked at him incredulously. What the hell is wrong with him today? “Of course Sir. And again, I’m sorry for my inappropriate behavior”.

Remus stared at me “Saturday? What about Saturday?” he seemed confused. “Detention. He simply delayed it. I have no idea what’s wrong with him today. Probably he’s just in a bad mood.” I smiled apologetically.

I tried to concentrate until finally the bell rang. “Everyone, please hand in a phial of your mixture. Don’t forget to write your names on them. Miss Evans, Mr Lupin, I will see you Saturday right after dinner in my office.” Slughorn declared, before leaving the class pack up their things and go.

and History

Hi guys, here I am again with a new chapter for you! Enjoy ;)

@Mik: Thanks! This really means a lot! xoxo

History is the most boring subject ever! How can anyone, who's not completely out of his mind force us, poor students, to relive all of those stupid wars that happened 300 years ago and will most likely never happen again? What's in it for us? There are so many more important things they could teach us, but no, here I am, walking into Professor Bins' class. At least it's just one lesson. And I still have to finish the-no Lily, don't you dare read that stupid letter!

I take my usual place in the front row. Actually I'd really prefer a seat in the back, but I'm Lily Evans. I'm the best. I have to sit in the front row and prove that to everyone, even in such a boring class!

While taking out my book I unconsciously also take out the letter and open it. Just a few lines...

Switching off Professor Bins' boring jabbering, I scan through Sirius' scribble.

Shortly after his signature I can see that the handwriting changed. This one is much neater than the one before. I immediately recognize it as Remus'. Of course!

"Hi Lily,

This is Remus.

I'm just doing this because Sirius is forcing me and because seeing James this way is not nice at all!" Oh please! This is complete nonsense.

"I don't know what I should be telling you, because I really don't want to force you to do something you don't want to." Thank you Remus, finally someone is being reasonable!

"So I'm just gonna tell you some facts! I won't take your side and neither James's, since you're both my friends." Thank you, thank you, thank you!

I turn back, look straight into Remus' eyes and smile. He looks a little confused but I don't really care.

"To James' defense he really likes you! He's not just faking it, or he would have given up many years ago." Are you kidding me? You said you wouldn't take sides! I feel like I'm about to stand up and pull off Remus' head. Instead I try to calm down and go on reading.

"To yours he may have been a really bad guy, and all the things you think about him may have been true, but they're not like this anymore!" Yeah right.

"You should be really happy he changed, because he just did this for you! Now he's a good guy, with a broken heart and you're the only one who can make him feel better! You don't even have to tell him how much you love him!" Where the hell is he suddenly taking all this nonsense from? How can he not see that James is a complete idiot? I really don't see how he's changed. He's exactly like he was last month which is no different than how he was two years ago!

"A simple 'I'm sorry-Letter' is enough for now! I'm not even asking you to go out with him (well, not yet)" Whaat?

", but at least you could try to get to know the real James and see how much he differs from the picture of him you had until now." I know exactly how the real James is like and he's a jerk!

"I hope I helped you with this letter!" Duh, not really!

I snort, while I stuff the stupid letter back into my bag. Why can't they just let me be!

The rest of history is a real torture. I can't even concentrate on the Troll Wars Professor Bins is talking about, so I just open the book and start drawing stupid scribbles on the front page.
