(A/N: First: sorry for my bad grammar (not my best even in my mother language german) .

It's my first try to write a ff in English.

Second: hope you enjoy and give me a little review�)

Hermione's Vendetta

� Remus open that bloody door!� Hermione yelled.

Eight years after the war Hermione came back to the Hogwarts school of witchcraft and wizardry as Potions mistress.

� Mione leave me alone� Remus lamely answered.

After the war Headmistress McGonagall asked him to teach again DADA. And all the parents were glad that he accepted. `Cause now he was the war-hero-werewolf-who-killed-Greyback-and-his-fellowers.

� Remus there is no need for hiding from your friends.� She banged forcefully against the oak-wooden door.

Since ten months Remus was not longer himself. He only taught his classes and after that he locked himself in his room's. He barely talked to others, answers owl's or eat in the Great Hall, if he eat� From day to day he looked more miserable his hair was much more gray than ever, his skin pale, his eyes lost of any emotion and he was much more thinner than in his worst times.

�Go�

Tonks, his Tonks, left him ten months ago. She fell in love with a young muggel and left him. Yesterday arrived an owl with the announce of her given birth to a girl. A wish he could never fulfil because off his lycanthropey.

� Moony, please don't force me to break through your ward's.� Hermione said much more calmer then minutes ago.

She read the Birth announcement from Tonks, at breakfast in the Daily Prophet . She wouldn't leave him today or any day. She watched him the last months and it breaks her heart.

�Like you wish, Remus. You know I can break through your wards faster then you can replace them.� like she said, ten seconds later the door burst open with a deafening crack.

�Welcome Hermione.� He said dryly.

�Remus why did you locked yourself like a wanted man ?�

�Dunno what you mean `Mione. My life is bloody brilliant and the sun is shining right out of my ass.�

�Oh stop that, Remus. You are not that pathetic self-destructive selfish arse, that's Snapes part.�

He must involuntary laugh.

�It's time to get over with. She doesn't deserve you, Moony.�

�But..�

�No but�there are a lot of people who care for you. We all need you.�

They still stand in the middle of the room, the door still hung broken in the doorframe and silence filled to air.

� Mione, I loved her. I thought she would be the one for me. She always understand me and�� this was the point where everything burst out off her.

�For Heavens sake, Remus. Tonks was so damn understanding that she took the first man she to get her pregnant. That was she ever wanted.� Hermione cried.

�She cheated you and you made a fool of you.� Tears filling her eyes and her voice was barely a whisper.

He wanted to comfort her but Hermione shoved his arms away.

� If you forget to drown in your own pity, just for one moment, you would see there are people who truly love you.� and pressed her lips hard on his. She want to get off of him but he wrapped his arms around her and deepen the kiss.

Outside the room Harry turned over to Ron and said:

� And I thought they would never get it.�

� Yeah mate. Remember me never to be in the way when Hermione is on a vendetta.� Ron said with a frightful look at the broken door.
